

INDIAN SPRINGS COLONY

NEWSLETTER SPRING 2018

Greetings to all our neighbors. Some of you have returned to summer residences in many different parts of the globe. We miss you and hope you are having a very happy season reuniting with family and friends and enjoying temperate climates.

Here, Tom Saia and Joe Figley along with our maintenance person Patrick Burlison, continue to be plagued by one problem after another. It is working better now, though I hesitate to say the problems are resolved. In the meantime Tom, Joe and Patrick did an admirable job of watering by hand and with portable sprinklers. Many members of the community volunteered to help. We are very grateful to all, and continue to hear compliments about our beautiful grounds.

In April Shipwatch completed the paving project, the stretch from the tennis pro shop to the Walsingham entrance. During the process we all adapted to using other means of entry and exiting the property, i.e. our gate by the maintenance building and the two "back" gates in Shipwatch. Our residents cooperated fully, the process went well--and our area looks even better.

Many of us still miss Vie's Waterfront Restaurant of course. The good news is that a family from Shipwatch will soon be opening Shipwatch Bar and Grill. They intend to keep the menu small, serving appetizers, sandwiches, soups and salads along with beer and wine. They intend to concentrate on Shipwatch and Indian Springs residents. We will want to support this new business, owned and operated by Clare and Gary Bennett along with their sons Brad and Bryant.

Through the Coop Committee, the Shipwatch Social Committee announced that they would welcome volunteers from our community to join them as they plan social events which are inclusive for Shipwatch and Indian Springs. Carmella Castle and Janet Leary agreed to serve in this capacity and any others are welcome to come a little early or stay a little late and help with set-up and clean-up for these events. Notices of social events will be posted on all our bulletin boards.

As always we welcome your feedback and look forward to a summer filled with good times and good neighborly relationships.
